Demonstration

Wayne Rexford demonstrated making pendants (Direction are attached as attachment A)

Sample of pendants

Pendant material that Wayne donated to Raffle

Pendant made with a slice of a Butter nut - also can use a Black Walnut

One side of the nut is flattened and then glues to a board. The slice is made with a band

Prepare the pendant stock as before then hollow out a location for the nut slice.

Nut slice will be slightly proud of pendant. Glue in place – Sand nut do not try to turn it.

Another example of how to display the nut. This was done by a friend of Wayne's

After turning a pendant, you can use a scroll saw to create a pattern. Wayne provided samples of patterns

Sample patterns provided by Wayne that are included as Attachment B to the newsletter

Some of the folks that turned out to see Wayne's Wonders.

Thank you, Wayne,

Show and Tell

Maple Burl Hollow Form by Dan Oliphant with Lacquer Finish

Aspen bowl by John Hinman with Shellac and Wax finish

5 ring Ornaments by Pat White in Black Walnut and Ebony with Walnut Oil Finish

Sphere Ornament by Pat White in Sipal Maple with Lacquer finish. This is a way to use the spheres that were created by Pat last time

Purse holder by Susan McCoy in Box Elder with Danish Oil Finish.

Lighted Sphere Ornament by Susan McCoy in Mahogany with wipe on Poly finish

Three Works by Peter Remmen all with Wipe On Poly Finish 2 are sycamore and one is "unknown"

Several bowl size blanks were in the Raffle. Wayne provided block for making pendants and there was a $15 card for Woodcraft. Brian Malner showed up with a pickup load of wood some of which was put in the raffle and the remainder was taken by those present. Some came from the trees that were cut down at the Idaho Capitol building when it was remodeled. He said he would most likely do it again since he is moving and needs to get rid of the wood. Looking forward to seeing some of the wood returned as projects in show and tell.

Upcoming Events

Annual Christmas Party

During December Meeting December 14th (Weather Permitting) starting at the regular time of 6:30. There will not be a demonstration, but we will have our normal gift exchange during the meeting. Bring a wrapped gift to the meeting for the exchange.

It does not need to be a turned item but something of value. Tickets will be distributed to those bring gifts and the stub placed in the raffle bowl. Numbers will be drawn from the bowl and the ticket holder selects and unwraps the gift. The maker of the gift will then do a "show and Tell" about the gift. There will not be an opportunity to "steal" the gifts this year. Hope to see you at the event. This will not be a pot luck event as in the past.

Monte's Visit

Turn for the troops Monte

We completed and turned a total of 1274 pens on turn day November 6th.
